

SHARP DETECTIVE & SECURITY SERVICE: Experience the Benefits of a Secured Life

The need for security has been a part of the human condition since ancient times. To prevent or mitigate losses of life and property, people and cities have employed military personnel or designated others to maintain law and order and defend against attacks and losses. Crime trends and public demand have opened more avenues for private security companies. With the expansion of roles of private security, the industry is also continuing to evolve to meet the challenges caused by rising world population, terrorism, emerging and competing nations, and dwindling natural resources that may cause social and political unrest.

Observing the wide necessity of security services in the Industrial, Corporate and Domestic fronts, Late Md. Shafeequddin established

Viqar Ahmed Shafeeq, CEO

SHARP DETECTIVE & SECURITY SERVICE (SDSS) in 1979 with a noble thought to offer private security services, private investigation, training for unarmed security guards amongst others. Being part of various security organizations, has contribute majorly to the growth of private security industry in India. Currently headed by Viqar Ahmed Shafeeq, heir of Late Md. Shafeequddin, SDSS has its services spread across industries, corporate houses, ITes, Banks, Educational Institutions, Retail Establishments, Residential Complexes, to name a few.

Viqar who also is the Secretary General of Central Association of Private Security Industry (CAPSI) - AP Chapter, Association of Private Detectives & Investigators (APDI) - AP Chapter, Vice President Telangana State Rifle Association (TSRA) amongst others, explains, how the silver lining of SDSS is its highly motivated, dedicated and experienced team of professionals who have exclusive investigative & security backgrounds in the Private, Government, Defense, State and Police sectors. “We put concerted efforts to provide hi-end security & investigative services with a view to placing the organization on international standards,” he says. An extensive knowledge of the security business has helped Viqar to establish SDSS as a trusted security partner over the years.

As a full-fledged Security Organization, Security Training, Investigation and Security Consulting firm, SDSS offers specialized security training services. “Our training structure has generated 150 security guards sponsored by National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) & Security Sector Skill development Council (SSSDC) and has helped provide employment to 150 trainees & sharpened the skills of our employees,” he adds presently training for unarmed security guards under the Pradhan Mantri Kusal Vikas Yojna (PMKVY) is under way for 60 security guards in the Pilot Project which is part of Skill Development Programme launched by the Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi on 15th July 2015. Further expansion of the training facility is planned on the outskirts of Hyderabad.

Viqar is also a National Level Skeet (Clay Pigeon Shooting) shooter who has won a number of championships including the South India Championships for the last two consecutive years. He aspires to win International medals for India.

Keeping pace with the growing security market, Viqar and his team constantly strives to deliver the best of security services to the customers. “We envision establishing SDSS as the most authentic and reliable security solutions provider,” he concludes. H
